Pitrele Has Tieber Arrested in Suit to Recover $450.

Benjamin Tieber was arrested on the order of Chief Justice Ehlrich, of the City Court, in an action brought against him by Elias Pitrele, a diamond dealer of 84 Nassau street, to recover a balance of $450 alleged to be due on jewelry Tieber has an interest in a saloon at 75 Park Row. Pitrele claims that false representations were made as to the financial condition of Tieber when the jewelry was obtained.

On June 18 last Tieber ordered diamond

On June 18 last Tieber ordered diamond earrings, a diamond stud and a diamond ring. In all valued at $800. He paid $150 on account. It is alleged that he said he owned the business at 75 Park Row, and that it was free and clear of encumbrance. Pitrele, however, claims to have ascertained that the piace is mortgaged for $25,000, and that Tieber only has an interest in it.

David Brown, another jeweller, makes an affidavit that Tieber told him that he owed Pitrele money on lewelry, but that it Pitrele asked him for it he would punch Pitrele's nose. He says Tieber also told him that he intended to sail to-day on a steamer for Bremen, and that he would leave his creditors whistling for their money.

SWINDLED BY AN OLD TRICK

Rosalis Lost $15, but Captured the Sharper's Confederate.

Matthew Miller, twenty-four years old, of 5 Mangin street, was held for trial in | Essex Market Court to-day on a charge of larceny preferred by Vasello Rosans, of 129 Bowery. Rosalis says that while he was passing along the Bowery last night a man picked up a pocketbook con-taining what appeared to be a $50 Treasury note in front of him, and offered to divide the money if he would change the bill. Rosalis gave the man Ma, all the money he had, and then discovered that the $50 bill was a Confederate note. He seized the swindler, and shouted for the police. At this juncture Miller appeared and freed the swindler, who escaped. Rosalis, however, seized Miller, and held him until a policeman came. Miller was acrested for acting in concert with the swindler.
